Annual Conference

CALL FOR PAPERS

The annual conference of the Canadian Association of Slavists will take place in virtual format in May 2022.

The CAS Annual Conference is held as a part of the Congress of the Humanities and Social Sciences with more than 70 national associations in attendance. The theme of the 2022 Congress is “Transitions.” More information is available here: Congress 2022 | FHSS \(federationhss.ca\)

The CAS conference usually overlaps with the annual meetings of a number of associations, including: Canadian Historical Association (CHA), Folklore Studies Association of Canada (FSAC) / Association canadienne d’ethnologie et de folklore (ACEF). Please consult the Congress 2022 website Congress 2022 | FHSS \(federationhss.ca\)

Proposals for interdisciplinary panels with other associations are very welcome. They are always a highlight at the CAS conference. Additional funding from the Federation is available for such panels.

Proposals are invited for individual papers, panels, and roundtable discussions. Complete panels are preferred.

Forms for panel, roundtable and individual proposals are available on the CAS website: <https://slavists.ca/conference/>

Please follow our abstract specifications when submitting your proposal(s).

The conference welcomes papers from the wide range of disciplines devoted to the study of central and eastern Europe, the Balkans, Eurasia, Russia, the Soviet Union, and the post-Soviet space. In the past, this has included panels on (in alphabetical order):

- Cinema
- Folklore and Ethnographies
- History
- Linguistics (comparative and Slavic)
- Literatures and Cultures

- Pedagogy and Second Language Acquisition (teaching of individual skills; curriculum design, presentation of new teaching materials; use of technology in language teaching; study abroad; etc.).

The meeting of the Canadian Association of Ukrainian Studies (CAUS) is traditionally part of the CAS conference and therefore Ukrainian Studies are always very prominently represented at the CAS Annual Meeting, including panels on, for example, Ukrainian folklore and ethnography; diaspora studies; Ukrainian Canadian literature; museum studies; Holodomor studies; Ukrainian history, literature, politics, and culture.

Early career scholars and graduate students are especially encouraged to participate. We kindly ask our senior CAS membership to support graduate students in applying. Some funds are available to graduate students to help with the conference registration fee. An application form for the 2022 Travel Grant will be sent out in March 2022 by the Secretary-Treasurer and will also be available on the CAS website.

Deadline for all proposals is Friday, January 14, 2022.

All proposals should be sent to the Program Chair, Lyudmila Parts at lyudmila.parts@mcgill.ca
